Shivaji remark: Shinde MLA demands guv be shifted out

Mumbai: Shiv Sena MLA Sanjay Gaikwad of Maharashtra chief minister Eknath Shinde's faction on Monday demanded that Maharashtra governor Bhagat Singh Koshyari be shifted out of the state for his recent remarks about Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj.

Gaikwad, who represents the Buldhana assembly constituency, also claimed that the governor had made statements about the founder of the Marratha Empire and stoked controversy earlier as well. "The governor should understand that the ideals of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj never age and he cannot be compared to any other great person in the world. My request to BJP functionaries at the Centre is that a person who does not know the history of the state and how it functions, be sent somewhere else," the MLA remarked. The Maharashtra governor had last week said that Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj was an icon of "olden days". Sule criticised BJP spokesperson Sudhanshu Trivedi over his remarks on the warrior king. 2022, 2023 critical years for ties with India, says US dy NSA

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: The current year has been a high in terms of US-India relations and 2023 will be even bigger, US principal deputy NSA Jon Finer said at an event organised by the Indian embassy in Washington on Sunday.

"The year 2022 was huge in US-India relations. We think we have seen even bigger year ahead in 2023. We have the Quad summit on the agenda coming up. We have India's G20 presidency which I know we're all looking forward to, including PM Modi," he said in his address.

Finer referred to the 2+2 Quad ministerial meetings taking place this spring, the relaunch of India-US CEO dialogue, and launch of critical and emerging technology dialogue early in 2023.

Finer referred to the 2+2 Quad ministerial meetings taking place this spring, the relaunch of India-US CEO dialogue and launch of critical and emerging technology dialogue early in 2023.

The entire Biden administration and certainly the President sees this as among the most consequential relationships for the US anywhere in the world, but also almost uniquely one of the relationships that still retains some of the greatest potential to continue to evolve and strengthen and improve, Finer said.

"We are deeply committed to doing just that. At a time that can be difficult to forge a bipartisan consensus in Washington on almost anything, there is a strong bipartisan consensus in support of the US-India relationship and has been for decades and a high degree of continuity from one administration to the next," Finer said.

Morbi: Rusty cables, loose bolts led to fall

Forensic Report Also Blames Overcrowding

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Rajkot: Cables holding Morbi's signature suspension bridge were rusty, anchors broken, bolts loose, and 3,165 tickets were issued to people to cross the structure across the Machchhu river on October 30, the day it collapsed and 135 lives were lost.

These critical facts form the bulk of the forensic report presented in court, pointing to six months of shoddy repairs before the bridge was reopened for the public on October 26—the Gujarati New Year's Day. There were around 300 people on the 766ft-long bridge when the bolts unhinged and cables buckled and snapped.

The forensic report was submitted in a Morbi court that is hearing bail pleas of eight of nine people arrested and charges pressed against them after the disaster.

The prosecution informed the court that Oreva Group—contracted to maintain, operate and guard the bridge—had issued more than 3,000 tickets without giving a thought to how much load the old bridge could bear.

Government pleader Vijay Jani said: "According to the FSL report, the cables of the bridge were rusty, anchors were broken and the bolts that connect cables with anchors were loose. The municipality had assigned maintenance work to Oreva, which included repairs to maintain cables, bolts, and anchors, not just the deck."

Jani said Oreva was responsible for safety and security, but it had taken no precautions such as appointing lifeguards and keeping boats on standby in the river.

It's alleged that there was no coordination between two ticket collectors at each end of the bridge. The defence counsel said the prosecution failed to cross-examine the officers on how many tickets they could sell at a time, or if they were aware of the bridge's capacity. "What is crowd management and what's your duty?" the court asked. The defence had no answer.

Opposing Oreva manager Deepak Parekh's bail plea, the prosecution said he had subcontracted DevPraksh Solution, a Dhrangadhra-based firm unqualified to carry out repairs of such a scale. "As a manager, it was his duty to instruct the staff that the bridge's entry should be closed after 100 tickets were sold and other people should be allowed only after those on the bridge left," it argued.

Among the accused, three were security guards Alpesh, Dilip Gohil and Mukesh Chauhan. The prosecution said they were labourers and had no expertise or training. The Directorate of Forensic Sciences will conduct two-more tests to check the tensile strength of the snapped steel cables and the amount of corrosion in terms of time. "The report would pinpoint responsibility, whether it was the structure or the overcrowding that led to its collapse," a source said in Ahmedabad.

Morbi a local tragedy better tackled by HC, but we will flag issues: SC

Dhananjay Mahapatra
@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: Urging the SC to admit a PIL on Morbi bridge collapse, senior advocate Gopal Shankaranarayanan told the bench that though the HC had taken suo motu cognisance of the October 30 incident, it would be appropriate for the apex court to consider larger issues like enhancement of compensation, which has been a paltry Rs 2 lakh and Rs 4 lakh, respectively, from the PMs and CM's relief funds.

He said there was a need for an independent probe into the complicity of the Morbi municipal authorities in awarding the contract for repair and renovation of the bridge, which was only facile, the lethargy in arrest of the top officials of the firm which renovated the bridge, the criminal negligence in allowing the bridge to be overcrowded.

suspension bridge in Morbi

The bench allowed the PIL petitioners to either file writ petitions in the HC or intervene in the pending suo motu proceedings.

It said, "It is a near-enormous tragedy. This will require weekly or fortnightly monitoring, which the HC is doing. It will require the court to look into the nature of investigations being carried out, the lapses in renovation and those who are responsible for it, lapses in awarding of contract, role of municipal authorities and the enhancement of compensation. We would have taken up the PILs but the HC is already dealing with it. It is a local issue which could be better monitored by the HC. But, we will flag the issues for HC."

'Hold men's promotions till women can be advanced too'

Citing Justice Chandrachud's landmark judgments in 2020 and 2021 granting permanent commission to women officers, she told the SC that the women officers "are being wrongly denied study leave and deputation... they are still being subjected to systemic, indirect and gender discrimination". Mohana said the Army authorities had announced, pursuant to the SC's March 25, 2021 judgment, that a special selection board will be conducted for these women officers and those having seniority between 1992 and 2007 will be considered, depending on their eligibility for promotion to Colonel.

However, no such selection board has been held till date even though two such boards were carried out to promote male officers, complained Mohana. "Senior women officers are forced to serve under junior gentleman officers in a highly sensitivity conscious organisation like the Indian Army and they are being posted as additional officers, being treated as superseded or re-employed officers, to carry out jobs which are generally assigned to captain or major rank officers," he said. A bench of Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud and Justice Hima Kohli took serious note of this and told senior advocate R Balasubramanian, who appeared for the Centre, that if this is the case, then the special promotion board for male officers for promotion to Colonel should not be held.

When Balasubramanian said he would seek instructions, the bench said, "Pushed into a spot, Balasubramanian assured the court of a fresh decision to fill [illegible] of Colonels are at [illegible] stage and that [illegible] promotion board [illegible]
