The IPO will consist of a fresh issue of shares of up to ₹7,000 crore and an offer for sale of ₹1,430 crore, according to the draft red herring prospectus (DRHP) filed with SEBI.

Pre-IPO placement
"Our company, in consultation with the lead managers, may consider a pre-IPO placement for an aggregate amount not exceeding ₹1,400 crore. It will be completed prior to filing of the

Time to broaden key manager personnel

Some key roles in new-age firms may escape KMP provisions

KS RADHAKRISHNAN
Chennai, October 1

Recently, the surprise resignation of Gaurav Gupta, a co-founder of Zomato, led to a lot of debate among market experts on Key Managerial Personnel (KMP) regulations. As the company did not disclose the resignation information to the stock exchanges, market watchers lambasted the re-nominalised unban on social media.

When exchanges questioned the company on why it did not furnish the information, Zomato clarified that Gaurav Gupta was not designated as a KMP under the Companies Act,

2013, and the Listing Regulations. "He was never a promoter nor was holding any equity shares in the company," Zomato said. "Therefore, his exit from the company does not warrant any disclosure under the Listing Regulations," it said.

Zomato is not alone. The resignation of Mudi Chandrababu Naidu (MCC) Chief Technology Officer (CTO) Manoj Jain was also not informed to the exchanges. Media reports quoting its Managing Director P. Reddy said Jain had recently put in his resignation papers due to "personal reasons".
